PKI is proud to host the 7th Annual Capstone & Research Conference on Friday, April 28, 2017. The conference will feature presentations, demonstrations, and papers by students from the University of Nebraska System. The conference affords students with the opportunity to present their research and findings to a wide audience of fellow students, faculty, judges, and leaders from government and industry. Topics are aligned with PKI academic programs from the College of Engineering, and College of Information Science & Technology. Tracks will be available for undergraduate, graduate and PHD students. For many students this will serve as the culminating event of their academic careers.

Format and Content

Students or student teams may present their projects or research in the form of an oral presentation or demonstration.

All formats will be judged and awards will be given to the first, second and third place teams presenting in each track.

You may provide an optional 4-6 page paper to accompany your project or research. You must be the primary author of the paper. Reports must be submitted by April 23, 2017.

You may submit more than one abstract or give more than one presentation.

Presentations should be prepared for an audience consisting of industry partners, faculty, and fellow students.

Oral Presentations and Demonstrations

Each student will have 15 minutes (including questions) to present and/or demonstrate the results of their research or project. The time limit will be enforced.

Standard electronic presentation tools will be available.

Prototypes are allowed for demonstration purposes.

Presentation files must be uploaded by 4:00 p.m. on April 25, 2017.
Judging

Each presentation will be evaluated by a panel of independent judges. Judges will be from the sectors of business, government, and military.

Judges will engage with you on the content of your presentation. Please be prepared to answer questions and provide more details beyond what is provided in your presentation/demonstration.
